Our new store opens today

We extend a cordial greeting to our friends and an invitation to look us over. This beautiful new store represents a sizable expansion, made necessary by the growth of our business. It is more in keeping with the character of our merchandise. But whatever physical changes have taken place, there has been no change in the spirit of the store.

We are going to sell Dobbs Hats and Stein Bloch Clothes. This means an important addition to the service you have formerly had from us. To the men who come here—to all men who fancy the really fine things in apparel—these two names mean so much that it hardly seems worth while to enlarge on them now.

We might add that the clientele we serve gave us exceptional access to the makers of the finest men's things all over the world. We chose Stein Bloch and Dobbs. Their character and reputation gave them the first call on the smart shops of Chicago. They chose Dockstader & Sandberg.

Welcome to our old friends and our new friends.

BACK TO SCHOOL.

Some 29,000,000 school children up and down this country are setting ready to go back to school if they aren't back already. In anticipation of the event, the National Educational association has sent out a letter reminding us that "newspapers do not now assume that the typical American child thoroughly hates school and his lessons and his lessons and his thoroughly hates school and his lessons and his lessons are school and his lessons and his lessons and his lessons and his lessons are commercialists and manufacturers take care of th ptible public servant."

That lets us in as an editor of today. We think ough of the quality of the teaching to advocate abolishing the long vacation for children whose carents want to send them to school in summer. Perhaps there is still here or there a spinster of cid temper ruling a schoolroom but we doubt if the suide aducational practice. In general, we relieve, the atmosphere of the schoolroom is more.

At the conclusion of the primary language class the teacher announced that the subject of the next lesson would be poetry, and then asked:

"Can any one tell me what poetry is?"

Little Chester immediately raised his hand, and upon being recognised, said: "Poetry is chickens."—

Having said that much, we hope we may add word for the teacher whose pupils do not love her too dearly. The atmosphere of the schoolro ought not to be too joyful. We are old fashione enough to believe there are a good many things to be learned in school which cannot and indeed ought not be made too pleasant. Multiplication tables for instance. They have to be learned tediously because there isn't any other way for most children to learn them. The teacher who slops the tedious items because the children won't love her if she makes them grind away at unpleasant tasks is betraying her trust. She is not only depriving them of important mental equipment; in addition she is failing to discipline them for life in a world in which many unpleasant things take place, in-

U PAGE COUNTY, lying just west of Chicago, furnishes lustration of a change in population of a type that is occurring nearly everywhere in America. This type of change is begetting new problems for the solution of which a new type of machinery is needed.

Automobiles and good roads, kept open at all seasons and in all kinds of weather, is the prime factor in this change. Electric interurbans contribute, as do suburban rafiroad services, electrified, and even locomotive service. The high cost of living, the cost of vegetables, are contributing factors. The hazards of the city streets, increased smokiness of city air, increased height of city buildings, with decreased light at street be put under Mr. Dever and Mr. Brennan.

In 1923 they had higher death rates from scarlet fever, whooping cough, influenza, and chicken pox than the balance of the state. Their typhoid rate is less than that of the state at large, but it is more than twice that of Chicago. They have more measles, diphtheria, and mumps—in fact, more contagion of practically all kinds-than Chicago has.

Du Page county has no slums and no great centers thickly populated by the foreign born. They have no great Negro groups. They consider themselves a picked population. In spite of their advantages the state health department is forced to spend much time and money on the people of Du Page county. In one year they sent inspectors into the county 240 times. They investigated 125 cases of contagion, distributed two units of diphtheria antitoxin, and gav away 5,000 pieces of public health literature. What's the use of holding a man for murder? They'll never hang him

If indicted and convicted of man slaughter, Russell can be sentenced for a few years only. The significance of the jury's verdict lies, lawyers said, in the fact that the men purors evidently sympathized with a husband who had been nagged by his wife, They apparently thought that Russell should be punished, but not by the severest penalty.

Evidence at the inquest was that Russell had been arguing with his wife. She had taunted him about another nan and had called him a "keywoman and had called him a "key stone copper," referring to his new uniform. Russell selzed a revolver and shot his wife. She died instantly.

lime Payments on General Motors cars

N August 1st General Motors announced important reductions in its time payment charges on General Motors cars—notwithstanding the fact that General Motors charges have always been the lowest.

The important thing to the purchaser is the total cost of a car. The time payment charge is a part of such total cost when the car is bought on time. These reductions therefore mean, in such instances, a substantially lowered total cost.

It is the policy of General Motors to pass on to the car purchaser economies wherever effectedin financing as well as in engineering, manufacturing or merchandising operations.

The purchase of a car out of income is a universally accepted practice. Six years ago General Motors organized the General Motors Acceptance Corporation (GMAC) to make credit available at the lowest possible cost to purchasers of General Motors cars.

The standard time price of any General Motors car is the cash delivered price, plus only the new GMAC charge.

PALUSTREPINE

The Safe Germicide for the Home

Non-Irritating and Practically Non-Poisonous

There is no longer need of dependence on poisonous, carbolic acid solution in the matter of home hygiene. PALUSTREFINE, with its pleasing pine forest odor, is 8 times more efficient as a germicide than pure carbolic acid. Yet it is positively non-irritating. Applied full strength to delicate skin or membrane, there will not be even a hint of irritation. This splendid preparation has the same scope of usefulness as the less desirable disinfectants, besides other uses, the very nature of which would prohibit the employment of the strong poisonous solutions. Added to the bath, PALUSTREFINE refreshes as it add in cleaning.

ing world itself may never know about it. But to those among whom and for whom it has lived that life is worth remembering and recording. And so, more and more, people are endeavoring to find other means than headstones or monuments to evince their respect for endeared departed ones.

What could be more appropriate in such a circumstance than a family room in the beautiful new unit which is now being added to the world-famed Rosehill Mausoleum? Prices are moderate (as low as $450 for single crypts). And imperishable construction and perpetual care make even more attractive this sort of investment in family reverence.

Inquiries regarding reservation in the new addition will be given prompt and courteous attention without obligation.

What are the FACTS concerning Pierce-Arrow economy?

The Pierce-Arrow Series 80 is an economical motor car - economical to purchase, economical to operate, economical to maintain.

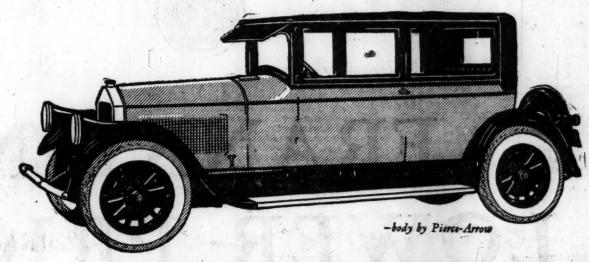

When we say it is economical to purchase, the prices speak for them-selves—ranging from $2895 to $4045, at Buffalo. A moderate payment may be made now, with the balance to be distributed over a period of months.

As to economical operation, let us remember that the Pierce-Arrow Series 80 is a long-lived car - that you can fully expect of it several years of service beyond the normal expectancy of an automobile less finely built; and, further, that the car gives 15 to 17 miles per gallon of gasoline and 15,000 to 20,000 miles per tire.

Economical maintenance is important - decidedly important, as any motor car owner knows. While the mechanism of this fine car rarely needs attention, the cost of normal attentions is greatly reduced by special high-speed tools and standardized methods—reduced in many cases as much as 75%. For example, grind valves and clean carbon, $12, including adjustment of the carburetor and other "tuning-up" operations.

> We urge you to make a personal inspection of our modern service and of the SERIES 80 car itself. A complete demonstration may be arranged to suit your convenience

Railroads Take In More, · but Pay Out More

The railroads have been handling the greatest rolume of business ever known, and their average rate level is higher than in the years immediately or to our entry into the World War. Because of the increased volume of business and the higher level of rates, the amount of money taken in by the railroads is of course greater than in our prewar years. And yet the owners of the railroads, the stockholders, are not so well off today as they were

The reason for this is that the increase in railway expenditures is greater than the increase in railway receipts. The amount of money taken in by the Class I railroads was $2,325,000,000 greater in 1924 than in 1916. But their payrolls were $1,260,000,000 greater; their locomotive fuel cost $187,000,000 more; their other materials and supplies cost $580,000,000 more; their taxes were $183,000,000 greater. ng increases in other items classified as operating expenses, the total operating expenses and taxes of the Class I railroads were $2,391,000,000 greater in 1924 than in 1916. This means that, notwithstanding improved efficiency of operation, there was an increase of $102.80 in operating expenses and taxes for every increase of $100 in operating revenues. As a result, the amount remaining after payment of operating expenses and taxes was $66,000,000 less in 1924 than in 1916.

Meanwhile, in the face of this decrease, the need for a considerably increased return had developed. Between 1916 and 1924 the Class I railroads spent $4,489,000,000-much of it borrowed-for the improvement and extension of their properties. On this added investment, it is immediately evident, not one cent was earned in 1924; in fact, as figures show, the return earned in 1924 on the basis of the 1916 investment was actually $66,000,000 less than was earned in 1916. The increased investment since 1916 has been of great and timely benefit to the public. It has enabled the railroads to expand their facilities to meet the constantly increasing needs of the country and to render highly satisfactory service. It has resulted in economies of operation which have kept the railroads as a whole going concerns in the face of declining rates. This increased investment, however, has not wet begun to earn a return for itself. ever, has not yet begun to earn a return for itself.

Moreover, since interest charges come ahead of dividends and since the return out of which both must be paid has decreased since 1916, the owners of the railroads, despite increases in both volume siness and level of rates, are actually in a less favorable position today than they were before our rance into the war. Those who provide the facilities for transporta-tion service must be allowed an equitable share in is rewards. The future of our nation demands that here be continued improvement and extension of railway facilities as business grows, and the money for this expansion must come, even more largely in the future than in the past, from those who are villing to accept the risks of ownership. This means that the earning power of the railroads must be safeguarded. There is no other solution.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are in-

Ruth Likely Out as Yank; Misses Landis, Leaves for N. Y. Babe Ruth's predicament is a source of regret to all fans. A chap who can pole 299 home runs in ten years—including 59 the way I used to do. The way I used to do.

New York, Aug. 31.—[Special.]— Babe Ruth, maker of home runs and the cause of more commotions in baseball circles than any man on record, may have played his last game as a Yan-kee. Unless he can make his peace with Miller J. Huggins, man-ager of the club, there is very little chance that the man who MRS. BABE RUTH. nothing to add to of American youth can ever again don a Yankee uniform.

This was made clear today when Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, announced that whatever action was to be taken in the Ruth case rested solely with Huggins. In view of the fact that Ruth has declared he will not again play with the Yankees so long as Huggins is the manager, it is taken for granted the ultimatum will leave all's most famous man out in the Confab With Huggins Lively.

Ruth is due in New York tomorrow morning. He may seek an immediate interview with Manager Huggins, who returned tonight with the Yankee team from St. Louis. Here Are Reasons Why "the Life of the Party" So Seldom Marries BY DORIS BLAKE

The little Gray Mouse would like to be the life of the party. She never lacks an escort. The boys all tell her she is a good dancer and they say they like to talk to her. But they talk seri ously to her. And, being young, she thinks she would like to be more like Hazel, who has all the boys around her, and she keeps them laughing with her gay banter. Hazel is what you call "the life of the party."

Which one do you think will marry first? I'd wager on the little Gray Mouse-if she stays that way, acts herself, and tries no imitation of Hazel. To begin with, if you attempt the rôle of another for which you are not fitted in any way, shape, or form, you simply make a fizzle of it. You buy your nat-ural charms. In this delightful model of black flat crêpe sketched today we find this typical note sounded in white satin treated to many fine pin tucks and battalions of small silver buttons. The cuffs repeat this same idea. As to the collar, here we have the plain white satin unadorned. That it takes the boyish turn-down course is by no means accidental, for this model is stressed in all the autumn openings.

But there is still another attention lavished upon that pampered bodice. From the shoulders hangs in the back a graceful little cape lined with white satin and scalloped in the, same way which prevails at the hem of the skirt. CATTLE-Bulk of beef steers

Fancy light hogs sold early yester-day at $13.60, the highest in ten days. Market opened steady to 10c higher, but later weakened with the day's average 5c below Saturday at $12.15, against $11.85 the previous Monday. Receipts at 30,000 were below expectations and quality graded only fair. Shippers purchased the cream of the offerings largely at $13.30@13.50, while mixed packing droves averaging 280@313 lbs cost $11.10@11.64, with 230@250 lb butchers at $12.65@13.12. Packers held off until late in the day and 7,000 were held over at the close.

With the exception of a few high priced specialties in heavy beeves, which continue to top in the cattle division, general trading was marred with drastic price cuts of 50@75c. Declines of $1.00 were cited in some instances. The undownturn was the result of a flood of 16,500 western range cattle, among the largest day's offerings on record, which swelled the total receipts to 34,000. argest of the year.

The price range for cattle of beef merit was widest of the year. Top 1,457 lb steers at $18.10 were only 15c under last week's peak, which stood highest since 1930. Only a half down lots passed $15.00, with common beef steers as low as $6.00. Sales in spots show $1.50 and more loss since the high time last week. Butcher stock slumped mostly 50c. Calves $0c@$1.00 lower. Stockers and feeders were slow and tendency lower. Lamb Market Strong.

Although sheer receipts were among the largest of the year at 25,000, they were only moderate for this time of year and sold freely at strong prices. Active demand on country account added zest to trading and relieved the market of more than 30 per cent of range offerings. To be dated October 1, 1925

Optional October 1, 1935

Due October 1, 1955

Coupon Bonds $1,000 and $10,000, fully registerable and interchangeable. Principal and semi-annual interest April 1st and October 1st, payable at First Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, or the First National Bank, New York City. Redeemable at par and interest on October 1, 1935, or on any interest date

Exempt from all Federal, State, Municipal and Local Taxes (Excepting Inheritance and Similar Taxes)

SECURITY

These bonds are secured by deposit with the Registrar of the Farm Loan Bureau of the United States Treasury Department, of approved first mortgages upon improved farms not exceeding 50 per cent of the appraised value of farm lands and 20 per cent of the appraised value of the insured permanent improvements thereon, in the Corn Belt District of the States of Illinois and Iowa. The mortgages pledged by this Bank have been approved by the Federal Farm Loan Board based upon the appraisals of their own appraisers. The bonds are further protected by the equity of land values and also by the paid-in capital stock of the bank amounting to $2,000,000, which carries double liability.

The farm loans made by the First-Trust Joint Stock Land Bank amount to approximately $33,106,000 at the present time. These loans equal approximately 45.15% of the values of the farm lands as fixed by the appraisers of the Federal Farm Loan Board, and 39.75% of the value of the farm lands and the insured improvements thereon. Evidence of the unusual conservatism of our policy is shown by the fact that we have accepted only about 60% of the loans offered to us.

To residents of North America no river in the world embraces such wealth of historic romance as the mighty St. Lawrence.

Up its great waters, the brave pioneers of New France travelled on their voyages of discovery and settlement—the renowned Jacques Cartier to found the city of Montreal, nine hundred miles from the sea; the courageous La Salle on his long journey to the Mississippi; the gallant Champlain to found Quebec; the devout Recollet Fathers on their missions to the Indians.

Travelling on the St. Lawrence Route to Europe one starts at Montreal and for two or three days the beauties and historic features of the river pass before one in entrancing panorama. To view them adds immeasurably to the pleasure of the overseas voyage.

Dated August 1, 1925; Interest Coupons Payable February 1st and August 1st; 6% Coupon Bonds in Denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100; Registerable as to Principal; Serial Maturities 1928 to 1940; Bonds and Coupons Payable at Offices of S. W. Straus & Co.; Callable at 102 and Accrued Interest. 2% Federal Income Tax Paid by Borrower.

The security behind this unusual issue comprises four exceptionally productive and well located properties in the heart of the downtown business section of Houston, Texas, viz:

(A)-THE RICE HOTEL - one of the best known and most profitable hotels in the South, together with a new 17-story addition now under construction, and leasehold estate. The bonds are subject to a prior mort-gage of $742,000 on the present hotel and leasehold estate thereunder.

(B)—THE ELECTRIC BUILDING—a completed 10-story fireproof office structure, two adjoining additions to be constructed and land in fee.

(C)-A MODERN THEATRE BUILDING-to be constructed, adjoining the Electric Building, and land in fee.

(D)-THE HAVERTY BUILDING-a completed, six-story fireproof, mercantile building, with land in fee.

The total funded debt is only 56.7% of the lowest independently appraised value of the properties. The combined net earnings are over two and one-quarter times the greatest annual interest charge and practically double the greatest combined annual interest and principal charges.

These bonds are the direct obligation of the Houston Properties Corporation, owned and controlled by some of the strongest financial interests in Texas, with long, successful experience in construction and management of downtown Houston properties.

An unusual feature is the well diversified and stable income from the properties as well as the exceptional responsibility and experience of the borrowing corporation. We shall be pleased to place our facilities at your disposal for complete and immediate investigation of this unusual investment opportunity.

Getting the most investment value for your money

ROSIN AND TURPENTINE.

HAT you pay for a bond depends upon its individual features. Some may be of value to you, and some may not. You pay for each in the price of the bond. It is important to secure only such features as you-need.

Security differs, even among high-grade, conservative issues; and what would be a suitable investment for one person might not be so for another. A widow, dependent on investment income for support, might wisely take a lower rate of return, for greater assurance of safety. The same kind of security might be considered a luxury to a man in active contact with business affairs.

Features you may not need

Marketability costs money. The more marketable, the more demand, and the more demand, the higher the price you pay. Some people need marketability. They must be in a position to realize quickly. Others do not.

Tax-exemption is another feature of value to some and not to others. The large income may pay so high a tax rate that four or four and a half per cent tax-exempts yield a better net than taxable six per cents. On the other hand, the man of small income would lose 1% to 2% a year in buying tax-exempts. He would be paying for something he could not use.

A good way to avoid waste

There are other features in bonds which command a market value, useful to some, useless to others. Investors should carefully analyze the securities they buy in the light of their own needs. This saves capital waste.

The surest and easiest way to avoid waste is to deal with a resourceful and competent bond house which puts the investor's interests first. It is the policy of Halsey, Stuart & Co. to do that always, to the best of its ability. This house has the knowledge, experience, resources, and diversity of offerings which enable it to provide bonds which are best suited to the individual case.
